"Anniversary Queen" finalists chosen

Finalists are Mary Ann Albert, senior from Fargo, N. D.; Jackie

Harris, junior from Detroit Lakes; Judy Livdahl, junior formerly of Fargo, now from Westchester, Ill.; Ruby Matthies, junior from Crookston; and Ann Mikkelsen, junior from Sabin.

The final election will be held Fri., Oct. 12, to determine which of these five will be Moorhead State's "Anniversary Queen".

This year's celebration will include initial commemoration of MSC's 75th Anniversary, plus the official dedication of Hagen Hall, new Science and Industrial Arts building on campus.

Other major activities planned as a part of the festivities are the traditional Bonfire, Pepfest, and Homecoming Hop set for Tues., Oct. 9. Wednesday begins with an all-college convo (presentation of queen candidates) and ends with an all-college movie in Weld Auditorium.

"The Four Lads," nationally-known quartet, perform on Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Nemzek Fieldhouse. Saturday highlights include the downtown parade, the noon luncheons, the football games with Michigan Tech, customary "open houses," the alumni and Hagen Hall dedication banquets, and the annual semi-formal Homecoming dance with music furnished by the Jules Herman Orchestra.

Cast of 60 to be in "Bye Bye Birdie"

The cast for the MSC Theatre fall quarter musical, "Bye Bye Birdie", has been named by Dr. Delmar J. Hansen, Theatre director.

The cast of 60 is headed by Charles Grover as Albert Peterson, Ruby Matthies as Rose Alvarez, Judy Lindell as Kim MacAfee, Patrick McDonough as Mr. MacAfee, Daphne Thompson as Mrs. MacAfee, Gary Brown as Conrad Birdie, Becky Crawford as Ursula Merke, Nancy Ebel as Mrs. Peterson, James Ebsen as Hugo Peabody, Kay Hendrickson as Gloria Rasputin, and Gale Hazen as Randolph MacAfee.

Guitarist is Lee Myrold. Charles Kowalski, Gary Radniecki, Dale Larson, and Doug Kindseth form the male quartet.

Reporters, conductors, bartenders, and policemen are played by Warren Brauer, Clayton Johnson, John Manikowske, Robert Woodbury, and Tom Nagel.

Also included in the cast are a teen chorus, and adult chorus, and dancers.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is the story of a rock and roll idol who must soon leave for the Army, and of the plans which are made before his departure to insure his return to fame upon release from the Army.

MSC is the first midwestern college to present this play.

Days of performances and ticket sales will be announced in future issues.

THE FIVE HOMECOMING QUEEN finalists are (l. to r.) Ann Mikkelsen, Mary Ann Albert, Ruby Matthies, Judy Livdahl, and Jackie Harris. The Queen will be chosen on Fri., Oct. 12.

Enrollment hits record 2129; 7 foreign countries included

Students from 22 states and seven foreign countries are represented in a preliminary fall quarter on-campus enrollment of 2,129 at Moorhead State College, Dr. Robert A. Hanson, registrar, reported Wednesday.

Total enrollment for the fall quarter, 1961 was 1,857. A further increase in on-campus enrollment is anticipated next week, Hanson said, when registration is completed for evening classes at the college.

On-campus enrollment at the college has more than doubled in the past five years, increasing from 948 in the fall of 1957 to more than 2,129 in the fall quarter this year.

A sharp increase in off-campus enrollment for the fall quarter also is indicated this year, Hanson added. With registration figures still incomplete, enrollment at 12 Western Minnesota extensions centers now totals 306, compared with 251 in the fall of 1961.

A steady growth in the number of students registered from out-state continues at the college. This fall there are 16 students from New York, 12 from Pennsylvania, seven from Iowa, and five from Hawaii. Fifteen students are registered from Canada, with other from Japan, Germany, the Canal Zone, Mexico, Israel and Jamaica.

Other states and the number of students from each are:

Iowa	7
Hawaii	5
California	4
Illinois	4
Arkansas	3
Massachusetts	3
South Dakota	3
Wisconsin	3
Ohio	2
Oregon	2

New Hampshire, South Carolina, Wyoming, Washington, Virginia, Louisiana and Idaho have one student represented here.

"No USSR food shortages" say Russian Agricultural delegates

By Vern Overby

On Tues., Sept. 25, seven delegates, including the Russian Agricultural Minister, from the U.S.S.R. made a stop in Fargo for a press conference. The delegates are on a tour of the United States to visit farms and agricultural areas.

The Russians said that approximately 90 per cent of the crops raised in the U.S.S.R. come from collectively-owned farms. They theorized that within a few years all farms in the country will be collective.

When asked about the reported food shortages in their country, the delegates denied there was a shortage and said that they sell more food stuffs than they buy. They also added that when the U.S.S.R. sells to countries there are no stipulations or ultimatums. The delegates also stated that agricultural production increased from year to year in Russia.

When asked about college life in Russia, the delegates said that any student with the potential, who was willing to work, could go to college. There are no clubs or organizations in Russian colleges, the Russians said.

Patricia Duffy recipient of Rotary scholarship

Patricia Duffy, a graduate of Moorhead Senior high school and a freshman at Moorhead State College, has been awarded an Alex Nemzek Rotary

IRC elects officers

Officers of the newly-formed International Relations Club were elected at the organizational meeting on Sept. 20.

Elected were: Susan Seigel, president; Ross Gabriel, vice president; Betty Newsom, secretary; Darwin Boutiette, treasurer.

Dr. Werner J. Feld, Political Science instructor, is advisor to the group.

Scholarship of $100 for the 1962-63 school year.

Two $100 scholarships are awarded annually by the Moorhead Rotary club in memory of the late Alex Nemzek, former coach and athletic director at MSC. He was instrumental in initiating the scholarship program in the Rotary Club here.

The other award this year went to Dennis Daellenbach, a 1962 graduate of the MSC high school and a freshman at Concordia College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Daellenbach, Moorhead.

Miss Duffy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Duffy, Moorhead. In high school she was active in the Wig and Sig Drama club, and the Language club. She was an American Field Service finalist.

Alice Bartels new Faculty Ass'n pres.

New officers of the Moorhead State College Faculty Association have been chosen for the 1962-1963 school year.

The association is concerned primarily with matters dealing faculty welfare.

Miss Alice Bartels, Campus school music is the new association president. Other officers include Dr. Neil B. Thompson, vice-president; Miss Ruth A. Hanson, treasurer; and Mr. I. Kenneth Smemo, secretary.

Schoolmasters Re-elect Brand

Dr. Werner Brand, director of placement at MSC, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Minnesota District 23 Schoolmasters Club at a meeting in Detroit Lakes Sept. 19.

U.S. Air Force Band to perform here Oct. 5

The United States Air Force Band, along with the Singing Sergeants, are presenting a concert, "Symphony in the Sky," at the Alex Nemzek fieldhouse on Fri., Oct. 5.

Col. George S. Howard is the USAF band conductor and Capt. Robert L. Landers directs the Singing Sergeants.

The selections have been chosen in consideration of each age group. Some of the main features are a vocal solo by Staff Sgt. Brown Bradley singing "Love is a Many-Splendored Thing", a trumpet trio, and a variation of overtures consisting of works from Verdi to Saint-Saens to Victor Herbert.

Tickets are now on sale at Daveau's in Fargo and Moorhead, at Nel's Vogel's, and on campus during the coming week. Tickets are priced at $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for students.

The United States Air Force Band's appearance in Moorhead is being sponsored by the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity, a national men's musical fraternity on campus.

Food service, men's dorm to be completed within month

By Mark Ulrich

The two buildings currently being constructed on the MSC campus will be completed ahead of schedule, according to Mr. Earl Herring, assistant to the president.

The tentative completion dates for the Food Service and the men's dormitory are mid-October and early November, respectively. Originally, the scheduled date was December 1.

The cost of the Food Service building is $475,000. It has 18,504 square feet of floor area and will serve as the central kitchen and dining area for all dormitory students and commuters. It will also have a modern snack bar, private dining rooms and meeting rooms.

Cost of the new men's dormitory is $400,000. It will sleep 100. The 4-story structure, upon completion, will include an activity room for social events and a laundry room with automatic washers and dryers.

The Building Names Committee, consisting of representatives from the administration, faculty, alumni and student body, met for the first time a week ago and began discussing possible names for the two new buildings.

The last completed building at MSC, Hagen Hall, will be formally dedicated in conjunction with Homecoming, Fri., Oct. 12, in the Hagen Hall auditorium.

Wanted: Debaters; Meeting Set Oct. 1

Moorhead State College will field a tournament debate team this year—if enough debaters can be found to make a team.

According to debate advisor Duane Scribner, the national college debate topic for 1962-63 is "Resolved: that the non-Communist nations of the world should form an economic community."

This activity is open to all students, and freshmen with high school experience are especially welcome.

Organizational meeting for this year's debate activity will be held Mon., Oct. 1, at 4 p.m. in M245. Prospective debaters who cannot meet at this time should see Mr. Scribner in his office, M244, sometime today or Monday.

Debaters may earn credit in Speech 233 or may take part in the activity on an extra-curricular basis. The season continues through the winter quarter.

Research papers planned by Student Forum

Last spring a group of students formed the Student Forum with the idea of providing an outlet for MSC students to follow up on their undergraduate research. The purpose of this organization as outlined in their constitution shall be "to encourage the formulation and dissemination of ideas among the students of Moorhead State College through the presentation of papers."

Forum meetings at which the papers are presented and discussed will be held the second Wednesday of each month during the regular school year.

On Wed., Oct. 3, at 7:00 p.m., the Student Forum will meet to discuss procedures and plans for the first presentation of a paper. The meeting will be held in M202. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Officers for the Student Forum are Rodney Baker, chairman; Harold Shuckhart, executive secretary; and Dr. Joseph Satin, advisor.

24 join MSC faculty and administration

Twenty-four new faculty members and administrators have been added to the staff at Moorhead State College here to meet the needs of increased enrollment and to augment the expanding liberal arts program, Dr. John J. Neumaier, president, has announced.

Educators from India, China and Germany are included among the new faculty members, 11 of whom hold doctor's degrees, two are completing pre-doctorate work, and the rest have master's degrees or are completing graduate programs.

A newly-established philosophy department will be headed by Dr. Catherine D. Rau. She is the author of two philosophical books as well as numerous articles in professional publications. Dr. Rau taught philosophy and French for 13 years at Dominican college in San Rafael, Calif., and, since 1961, has been lecturing at the University of Alberta, Canada, and the University of Oregon. She earned her doctorate at the University of California at Berkeley.

Dr. Charles R. Magel, who holds a doctorate from the University of Minnesota and has served as instructor and assistant professor in the university's department of philosophy as well as coordinator of administrative services in the University's General Extension Division, will serve as associate professor of philosophy. Dr. Magel is currently secretary of the Minnesota Philosophical Society.

Dr. Santokh S. Anant has joined the psychology department as an associate professor. He holds a doctorate from the University of Michigan where he served as a teaching and research assistant and a teaching fellow. Previously, he was an assistant in a child guidance and personality clinic in India and a lecturer at a teachers' training center and postgraduate basic training college in India.

Four new members have joined the department of languages and literature. Dr. Walter Stotzer, who will be assistant professor of German and Russian, holds a doctorate from Friedrich-Schiller University in Jena, Germany. He taught Russian in Germany to German university students and spent one term as a guest lecturer at a college in Moscow teaching German to Russian university students.

Dr. Verle D. Flood, associate professor of English and literature, earned his doctorate at the State University of Iowa in Iowa City where he served as instructor in communication skills after two years of advanced study at Harvard.

For the past two years he has taught at Northern State Teachers College, Aberdeen, S.D.

Dr. Harland Peabody, Jr., associate professor of humanities and English, was the winner of the 1961 Monograph Prize in Humanities offered by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He earned his initial degree at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., where he taught for two years, and his graduate degrees at Harvard.

Dr. Robert J. Young, Jr., associate professor of Spanish, holds a doctorate from the University of Wisconsin and a masters of letters from the National University of Mexico. He has taught Spanish the past two years at Indiana University.

Dr. Yung-Teh Chow, co-author of the book, "China's Gentry," which was published in 1953 by the University of Chicago Press, has joined the faculty as associate professor of sociology. Before coming to the U.S. in 1948 and earning his doctorate at the University of Chicago, he was instructor in sociology at several Chinese universities. He also did educational work with soldiers of the Chinese Nationalist Army and was an editor for the Association for the Advancement of Mass Education Movement in China.

Dr. Werner J. Feld, who will be assistant professor of political science, was a former German-American businessman who earned a law degree in 1933 from the University of Berlin and his doctorate at Tulane University in New Orleans. He has traveled extensively in Africa and the Middle East and his particular interest in the European Common Market has led to the scheduling of a two-day international panel on this and other topics at MSC in November.

Miss Jeanne Fahs, an honor graduate of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, will serve as history instructor, replacing Dr. Edwin Blackburn, who is on sabbatical leave during this school year. She holds a master's degree from Stanford University in California.

Three new members have been added to the science department at the college. Dr. Thomas Collins, who will be assistant professor of biology, worked as a teaching assistant in zoology at the University of Minnesota where he earned his doctorate. He was awarded a Fulbright Grant to the University of Vienna, Austria, from 1952-53 and a National Foundation pre-doctoral fellowship.

Dennis L. Krzyzaniak, who will be associate professor of chemistry, is a graduate of North Dakota State University where he earned both B.S. and M.S. degrees. He has taught since 1952 at South Dakota State College at Brookings, co-authored two books and worked during the past summer at Oregon State University on his doctorate under a National Science Foundation Research Participation Grant.

Dr. B. Spencer Meeks, Jr., who has been at Bandung Institute in Indonesia since 1958 serving as professor of chemistry and chairman of the chemistry department, will be associate professor of chemistry. He holds a doctorate from Cornell University in New York. He worked from 1952-56 as a research chemist for the Tennessee Eastman Co., Kingsport, Tenn., and from 1951-52 as a research chemist for the U.S. Rubber Co. Plantation Division in Sumatra, Indonesia.

Earnest Harris, a graduate of Concordia College, Moorhead, and a member of the Concordia College music department for 15 years, will be assistant professor of music. He earned his masters degree at Hamline University, St. Paul, and has done advanced graduate work at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio.

Derald D. Rothmann, a native of Washburn, N.D., who earned his B.S. degree at the University of North Dakota and his masters degree at the University of Kansas, will be instructor of mathematics.

Jerry Emery, new instructor in the speech department, holds a masters degree from the State University of Iowa where he was active in theatre productions both as an actor and director.

Allan Holmes will serve as instructor in health and physical education and as assistant football and wrestling coach, replacing Loel Frederickson, who is on sabbatical leave this year. He holds both B.S. and M.S. degrees from Moorhead State and formerly taught and coached at the Frazee, Minn., high school.

New administrators at the college include Matthew Stark, dean of students, who earned B.A. and B.S. degrees at Ohio University and his masters in educational psychology at the University of Minnesota where he served from 1954 to 1960 as coordinator of the residence counseling program. A former member of the Human Rights Commission and former chairman of the Minnesota Housing and Relocation Committee, he has served as a teaching fellow for the past two years at Western Reserve University while working towards his doctorate.

Miss Helen Krahn has joined the staff as acting dean of women. She is a native of Wisconsin and served for a year on the youth advisory board to the Wisconsin Governor's Commission on Human Rights. She holds a masters degree in counseling psychology from Ohio State University where she worked as an assistant in psychology and as manager of a graduate residence hall and counselor for new foreign students.

Roger G. Hamilton, former co-publisher of the Becker County Herald in Detroit Lakes, has assumed duties as director of development at the college. He received his B.A. degree from Oberlin College in Ohio and last year took graduate work at the University of Minnesota leading to a masters degree in American Studies. He will teach journalism, serve as advisor for the student newspaper, and be in charge of alumni relations, the college public relations program, and fund raising.

Four new members have been added to the faculty of the college-operated campus high school. Franklyn Schulz, instructor of music, will replace Jerold Sundet, band director, who is on sabbatical leave. He holds a B.S. degree from MSC and an M.S. degree from the State University of Iowa. He taught for two years at Hancock, Minn.

James Strawn, a graduate of Macalester College, St. Paul, will be instructor of social studies. He taught for a year at Willow River, Minn., and studied for a year at the University of Minnesota law school.

John W. Kearns will be instructor of English, French and speech. He holds a B.A. degree from Montana State University and has taught two years of high school in Jordan, Mont. He worked with the summer theatre in Big Forks, Mont., for two years.

Mrs. Barbara Biegel, who holds a masters degree from Yale University, will be instructor of languages and literature. She studied at the University of Paris in 1951-52 and at the University of Grenoble in France during the summer of 1954. She has taught French in Maine, Colorado, Connecticut, and most recently at the Boise Junior College, Boise, Idaho.

Dragons test Bemidji in home opener

MSC is slight favorite over Beavers in first conference tilt

By Larry Larson

The Moorhead State College Dragons open up their 1962 grid conference schedule tomorrow night (Saturday) when hosting the Bemidji State College Beavers in an outing slated to get underway at 7:30 p.m. at Nemzek Field.

The Dragons, with two straight non-conference wins, now enter the tough Northern States College Conference slate. Bemidji State is picked to finish third by many prognosticators. The Dragons have a real good chance of winning the six team loop title.

Beaver Head Coach Chet Anderson says that his Bemidji State crew has good size up front, a good passing attack, and a speedy backfield.

Watch halfback Mike Goeden, a junior speedster from Duluth Morgan Park; he leads the running attack along with Bruce Melin, junior from Hermantown.

Jackie Brandt, junior quarterback from Saskatchewan, handles the passing attack with great skill as the aerial throwing artist finds his favorite target, end Lowell Neomoland.

Brandt ranked among the nation's leading small college passers last year. He also is a fine runner.

Dick Werner, a 273-pound freshman heavyweight from Fergus Falls, holds down one tackle spot along with John Christie.

The Beavers lost their seasonal opener to the tough MIAC conference entry, St. John's, but last week the Anderson-coached gridders upset highly-touted Augustana and most certainly must be reckoned with tomorrow night.

Dragon Head Coach Dwaine Hoberg plans no major changes in his starting line-up and will start with Bruce Bausman and Gary Willert at the ends. Lorny Johnson and Craig McComb at tackles, John (Bo) Henry and John Hiner at guards with Co-Captain Ron Johnson at center. Dick Schubbe will man the quarterback spot with halfbacks Jim Berg and Don Pate going with Co-Captain Roger Gunnufson at fullback.

Reserve quarterback Lowell Kutches will see plenty of action with his throwing arm his most dangerous weapon.

Many other fine offensive and defensive stalwarts will be counted on heavily by Hoberg in tomorrow night's conference opener.

Dragon Along

Jim Bock, a Valley City Teachers College graduate and high school football coach at New Rockford last year, has been added to the Dragon grid coaching staff.

Frank Leidenfrost, former Dragon footballer who coached Wauben High School to success in Lake Agassiz Conference eight-man football, is now an assistant mentor at Foley, Minn.

Jin Walline, former Moorhead State College assistant football coach, has been named to the varsity grid staff at North Dakota State University.

Arlo Brunsberg, former three-sport star at Concordia College, has been added to the Cobber coaching staff. Arlo will serve as an assistant football and and freshman basketball mentor.

Lowell Bolger, current assistant football mentor, will also be an assistant coach under Head Coach Larry MacLeod during the basketball season.

Ken Grabinske will coach the freshman cage contingent this year. "Bink" is a graduate of Moorhead State and has coached at Frazee High School the past four years.

Ken Dyson, last year's freshman basketball coach and an assistant under Head Coach Glen Cafer, had an 8-3 pitching record for Fort Walton Beach, this summer. All of Ken's decisions were by way of relief hurling. Fort Walton Beach is a farm club of the Minnesota Twins.

The Dragons enter the tough Northern State College Conference football race tomorrow when they square off with the Beavers from Bemidji. With a victory over the Paul Bunyan city, the gridders should have the inside track on capturing the loop crown as always-tough Mankato is slated to play the Dragons here October 20.

Hoberg's charges spill Yankton 20-6

Dick Schubbe tallies three TD's

Moorhead State's undefeated band of gridders rolled to their second victory in as many starts as they dumped the Yankton College Greyhounds 20-6.

The local Dragons, who have captured two non-conference victories on the road, test Bemidji State tomorrow in the opening home game of the season.

Schubbe scooted across from the 3 in the second quarter to give the game its initial scoring. Lorny Johnson, placekicking expert, spilt the uprights to give the Dragons a 7-0 lead at half-time.

Johnson blocked a punt on the Yankton 40 in the third quarter to set the stage for Schubbe to direct the contingent into scoring position. Schubbe plunged over from the one this time for the second Dragon tally.

End Bruce Bausman, an all-conference junior returner caught two passes to set up the third Dragon touchdown. This time the shifty Schubbe scored from eleven yards out to give the Dragons a three touchdown lead. Johnson kicked the extra point and the locals led 20-0.

The Greyhounds picked up their only score of the outing when Buzz Stevenson caught a 24 yard aerial from Larry Ryken. Their extra point attempt failed.

Moorhead State rolled up 193 yards rushing and once again a very respectable 114 passing. Yankton totaled but 98 yards rushing and garnered 49 passing. The Dragons held a 14-5 edge in first downs over the host club.

Reformed Liston deserves "chance"

By Mark Ulrich

In two minutes and six seconds of the first round at Comiskey Park in Chicago Tuesday night, the hulking devastator Charles (Sonny) Liston overcame the last step in his long fight up the ladder of rehabilitation by knocking out the gamesome champion, Floyd Patterson.

Liston, who some say couldn't read this article, has given the American, and world fight fans, a taste of what they've been craving for so long — a true representative of the coveted heavyweight crown.

But the public doesn't accept him.

Our society doesn't want the man who has fought his way out of the epitome of hell (public discipline, scorn and ridicule) they created.

No, the American way, the fighting way, isn't really acceptable anymore. Or so it appears.

When Sonny rushed over to Floyd Patterson after the fight, these were the words he heard from the defeated champion: "You can be as good a champion or better than I was, now that you have the chance."

"Chance" has become a big word in Sonny Liston's vocabulary for some time now.

Like a man deep in financial debt for a good deal of his life, but still with a poor credit rating, Liston stands. He stands before the public eye, society, pleading for a chance — a chance to make good.

Will he get his chance? Will the intelligent man in our society look into his hard dark eyes and understand? Will they note that this man has great fears? That he wants to be accepted? Do men realize what it's like to be caught up in the inexorable pace of life, to be born into a rough environment with little insight?

Sonny, in his crowded dressing room following the fight, said: "If the public will allow me a chance to let bygones be bygones, I could be a good champ."

He proved he could fight. Patterson was like a fly in the early moments of the fight — swift, definitely hard to hit. Liston missed with several punches. But Patterson, like the fly that takes too many chances, came too close. He was in there to prove himself as a worthy champion against overwhelming odds. That was his fate. Liston, a boxer schooled well in the fundamentals of the art of self-defense, showed that he is probably the most powerful puncher in the history of boxing. It will be a long while before he is defeated. Give Patterson credit, but remember these added words of Liston following the fight: "If the public will accept me I'll be a good champion."
